

Mercury Insurance is a ‘Best Auto Insurance Company’ for 2020, According to Insure.com

Shopping for auto insurance can be overwhelming. Many insurance carriers tout low rates and discounts, so how do consumers ultimately choose the right company for their needs?

If you're like most shoppers, the opinions of your family, friends, trusted acquaintances—and even social media favorites—weigh heavily in your decision-making process. The good news is Insure.com has compiled a list of the best auto insurance companies based on recommendations from people like this and, once again, Mercury Insurance stands out as a top insurance pick.

Insure.com surveyed thousands of auto insurance consumers across America—more than 3,700—asking consumers to rate their insurance providers on the criteria of “value for price,” “customer service,” “claims satisfaction,” “usefulness and ease-of-use of its website and mobile apps,” “plans to renew current policy” and “would recommend.” And for the fourth year in a row, Mercury was recognized as one of the top insurance companies in the United States.

“We're honored to receive this recognition from our policyholders once again,” said Mercury Insurance

President and CEO Gabriel Tirador. “Our customers put a lot of trust in us to offer them some of the lowest rates in the industry while also providing them with exceptional service and taking care of them in their time of need. We take these responsibilities seriously and this award lets our employees and agents know that what they do for our customers every day is appreciated.”
