

Mercury is a Company You Can Trust

Consumers have many choices when it comes to selecting an auto insurance provider and, while affordable rates and discounts are attractive selling points, it's also very important to consider companies' financial stability. You need to know your insurance company will be there when you need them and it has the resources to pay your claim quickly. This information can be difficult to find, but one good place to look is Forbes' annual lists of "America's Most Trustworthy Companies." These lists highlight companies that are financially sound and trustworthy...and Mercury Insurance is once again included.

AMERICA'S MOST TRUSTWORTHY FINANCIAL COMPANIES

Forbes recently named Mercury one of "America's 50 Most Trustworthy Financial Companies" for 2015, which is the sixth time Mercury has earned the distinction of being included on a Forbes "America's Most Trustworthy Companies" list.

"It's a true honor to be included on this list again," said Mercury CEO and President, Gabriel Tirador. "Being recognized by Forbes as one of the most trustworthy financial companies is a tremendous achievement and it helps demonstrate to investors and customers that the trust they place in us is well-founded. We are committed to providing the best possible service to all of our customers and they should rest easy knowing Mercury will always be here when we're needed."

Mercury has been dedicated to protecting its customers, their families, pets and property ever since opening its doors in 1962. It's a responsibility we take very seriously and we're committed to providing the best possible service and protection to everyone we insure.

This commitment doesn't stop with Mercury, however, as our local agents are also available to offer advice on everything from shopping for vehicles, home remodeling, and protecting property, family and pets in the event of a natural disaster, to answering all of our customers' insurance questions. And many of them are right around the corner, so you can drop in anytime to say hello.
